Hair rules can be tricky. Ditch this unwanted hair by cloning your surrounding hair into the zone you want to remove with L'Oréal Professional's new TrueXpression(TM) Mini. Capable of enlarging and contracting your hair, the process lets you extend or reduce hair from your arms, legs, and even facial or scalp hair. Start your hair journey by adding a little water with a handful of Prep Hairs. Apply Prep Hairs to your hair, wait a few moments, and then apply the hair to your desired zone. To reveal a fuller zone of hair, simply apply the TrueXpression Mini and watch your new, perfectly sculpted zone of hair expand and contract for a natural look. published:12 Jun 2011 World's Best Hair Remover | Facial Hair Removal (Top 10) I know this is a bit of a random video, but am beginning to work through my entire collection of hair removal videos. They are changing how we shop, how we think about our bodies, and how we define beauty. And they are doing all of this in ways that are redefining our world. The new norms are being set on the streets, in the gym, and in the boardrooms of major brands—and there are millennials leading the charge. They are even moving more and more into positions of power in companies and in the media. The Millennial generation is not only making its way into key roles, but it is also redefining those roles in ways that will alter the future of beauty and fashion. This group of twenty- and thirty-somethings is innovative, creative, and driven. These millennials are making beauty and fashion fun, accessible, and affordable. And with this rising generation in charge of our future, there are also some negative outcomes. Millennials are taking on positions of power in positions that could very well affect not just their careers, but their future as well. The Influence of the Millennials The Millennial generation will make an impact on our world that we will never forget. This generation is in a unique position to affect the future, both in their work lives and in their personal lives. They are the driving force behind everything from green technology to fashion trends. In business, this group of twenty- and thirty-somethings is so strongly influencing the future of beauty that there is a movement called
