Zombie Nightmare is a zombie shooter game. You can kill zombies in the first-person perspective. This game is easy, because it has a normal difficulty. With three difficulties included. I like VR game but I hate that head tracking is optional. How about fixing the game like Bloodborne or Tokyo Xanadu that requires your entire body as the controller. I wish head tracking was mandatory. I see your point that this is a shooting game, but you could have make it a first person shooter too if the controls are as you're implying. First person shooter games already have controls so why couldn't they be made and then you get real immersion, not some zombie fake ass game. It will be really nice if they have a test mode to see how the game feels to not depend on the gamepad. it will still take 2-3 hours to finish the game, even if the game isn't a shooter. I have seen people that have played it for nearly 40 hours. If the developers actually cared they could have made this game longer. Thank you for the unbiased feedback. We're sorry for the disappointment. We're sorry that you want to close the game's doors. We respect the opinions of all players. We have plans to add gamepad support. I really wish VR games had proper controller support, in every game, instead of having everyone's input just a handful of people, and usually from big dev studios. As for the game being 'fake', isn't that an expected standard, for a VR game? As for 40 hour games, if you can tell me any games that has a 40 hour game, i'd like to hear them. . April 1985 Depression by Robert Morres Experience is a tough thing. It doesn't mean too much. It isn't enough. And you can't get rid of it. It should be. It is. It's there. I don't want to think about it. At all. But I do. Both now and then. It is what it is and there's nothing to do about it except keep it from getting worse and better. You see, my head. It's big. The things you think of. It's big. There's a lot of them. In it. You're in it. And you're them. All of you. All trying to say something. What's it been? Two or three or six years? Longer? Hell, it never was. We don't do years here. This is a long time. It can go on forever if you want it to. Waiting for this or waiting for that. Waiting for me. Sometimes I want to stay in bed or on the couch where I can feel the air go cold between me and what will happen. It won't last long. If it was that damned quick, it'd be too easy. No, that's not true either. It might not be that easy, but it would be shorter than this. I won't say the things I want. What do you think I've been doing? Trying to say them to you for going on four years now. And what do you think you've been doing? Trying to listen. That's right. Wait for me. For me to say them. That's what you've been doing, but don't pay any attention to it. It takes too much. We're not machines. At least a machine will go on. What am I doing? Who has the most experience? Do you know? I don't. I do know it's always been me, me, me and the other me. And everybody got stuck on the other me. What do I have but what I like? Only one thing I ever liked. You. I'll tell you about it later. Right now you want to go out into the world and see what your ideas are worth. And what can you give me? Nothing. Nothing! So help you God, nothing! You're waiting too. Waiting for me to say something that makes it all right. Wait for me to say
