Play the game! Q: Cannot get property 'videold' in Angular-Kit I have installed angular-kit on my project (typescript 2.4.2, visual studio 2017). I have already installed cordova-plugin-video-capture but Angular-Kit does not allow access to device properties. I have to use 'kAngularkit.Kit.device.foo', but it returns : 'Unable to get device properties'. Even with 'getDeviceProperties' it works fine with cordova-plugin-videocapture but with angular-kit returns the same error. Thanks for your help. [Edit] I think I found the solution : When you create a new app using angular-kit, you can have a look at base.json which contains the following lines : "cordovaPlugins": "audioCapture" "cordovaPlugins": "camera", "cordovaPlugins": "console", "cordovaPlugins": "device", "cordovaPlugins": "deviceSystem", "cordovaPlugins": "deviceAndroid", "cordovaPlugins": "deviceSystem", All our plugins are listed. I am checking all the plugins, and if I find an unknown one (the only one being a cordova plugin not supported) then it returns the error message. It can be fixed adding the plugin in which is not supported. A: This fixed the issue for me when using cordova-plugin-videocapture: cordova plugin add cordova-plugin-camera@git://github.com/wildabeast/cordova-plugin-camera.git That may not necessarily be the best solution for you. Check if the other plugins you have installed are not cord
