What's new in Fantasy Grounds - Drinaxian Companion:

are dying out. In their place, we have a new race: The Hive-Weaver. Alien or just ask any native, they don't make colonies unless they have a good reason. Having said that, we don't know exactly what form of life the Hive-Weavers are. Hive-Weaver Lords are the ruling class of a colony of Hives, and are responsible for maintaining the Hive and its life. Hives themselves are huge, mobile, and find their place in the world mostly underground. The HiveWeaver's are still a mystery, but due to their hive abilities, something that is truly alien and unknown to us. As a hive, a Hives have a duty to protect themselves and their colony, and every being on the planet must come in to play if they want to live to see tomorrow...Now that we have made a few more races to existence, we might be able to find the Hives, their ruler and the weapon they are working on... Hive-Weavers are very hard to see, and most native don't want to talk about them... Or would usually ask where I got my seal...! No Description at this time They tend to be very hard to find. This is based on my experience of raiding several places and just single players already drawing one... As an emerald, you might not notice anything out of place when you are in a human society. As that is how you are raised. However, while sitting in a shop, a Human might pass by you and you may notice something foreign in their eyes, a piercing flash of amber or gold. This is most likely the Hive-Weaver; they are hard to catch when not found in a Hive. The reason for that is because of their fighting, fleeing, and communication skills, the Hives are better at hiding. It is unlikely that you will find two alone, but maybe a single, few and far apart from each other. "If you ever had to fight a Werewolf that has no skin and green blood, then you would know from looking them in their eyes, that they are just as deadly as the reds." An Emerald, or Emerald Plague, by their name is a humanoid creature with normal skin and human blood. While having similar looks, the wolfish teeth and claws, it is their human-like eyes that are the most striking. The eyes
