► You play as a spaceship captain in the far future. Your spaceship is destroyed. Your crew is scattered. To survive and find other people, you must find the spaceship alive and on the first planet you reach. ► The land on Mars is completely desert like. It is not recommended to stay longer than one day at a time. ► The strange creatures of Mars do not want the humans to land on Mars. They will avoid the contact of the soldiers even if they are injured. ► On each planet, you must survive the sandstorm and to destroy the creatures that help the sandstorm or cut off contact with the expeditionary group. ► Each planet is composed of a desert and a jungle to survive. ► Each planet has 2 kinds of creatures. The main ones are: - The big creatures. All of them are unresponsive and are trying to kill you. - The little creatures. In a few of them, you can find out the expeditionary program. All the other creatures are invisible to you. ► For now, there is no protective shield or extra guards. ► Your mission is to travel to the closest inhabitable area on Mars. ► You can save your game each time you come back from a planet. ► If you have a severe injured on each planet, you need to find an antenna to call back for help. ► The game is compatible with Apple touch. Supported Countries: - United States: Apple Ios, Apple Iphone. - Europe: All of the countries in Europe. - Global: All of the world. - Worldwide: All of the countries in the world. Features Key:

Choose between two different races and three different starting classes.

Four ages of play: childhood, teen and young adult in the first, and then in adulthood. Each of which have their own unique set of skills.

A powerful, rich, 3D universe filled with enemy factions and items of great power.

Intricate skills for both combats and negotiations, and with dozens of possibilities.

Challenges that boost the player in multiple ways, there is no exclusive goal or path.

A more strategic combat experience, but without drastically changing the mechanics.
