By the end of the programme, it was found that 16,100 students got a gold medal in physics, 7,900 in chemistry, 4,600 in biology and 5,500 in chemistry and physics. Although some Chinese cities have grown huge, less than five percent of the country's population lives in them. China is a vast country with a population of over a billion people and the lack of development in rural areas has been a major concern for the country's government. For this reason, there is currently a push to increase infrastructure, especially in rural areas. In Beijing, the covered river crossings are a common sight, and people have used them to cross the Yangtze River for as long as 1400 years. However, when it was first proposed in 1959, the interprovincial covered river crossings were abandoned in the face of claims of earthquake and traffic accident dangers. Construction only resumed after many years of lobbying by local officials. Today, in China's most populated province, there are more than 30 covered river crossings. Development of a novel dry-reagent, mini-chemical mechanical polishing (mini-CMP) system for polishing copper and copper alloy thin-film layers. In the fabrication of integrated circuits, the metal interconnect layers in the integrated circuit are commonly polished using chemical mechanical polishing (CMP). This provides planarization of the metal interconnect layer. CMP includes the use of chemical agents with mechanical polishing of the metal inter 6d1f23a050
